Here are some commonly used Preventive Care services* that are covered in full:

Deductibles and your plan

Your plan includes a deductible.

A deductible health plan is designed to help keep premium costs low for you and your family. Your plan includes a deductible that must be met before the insurance company pays for covered services. This deductible applies to all medical care and prescription drugs, but does not apply to Preventive Care services*, which are covered in full. After your deductible is met, you will pay coinsurance. Preventive drugs do not apply to the deductible.

Medical diagnosis-driven services for certain chronic conditions are covered in front of the deductible (applicable cost shares, such as copays and/or coinsurance may apply).

Prescription drugs and your plan

Prescription drugs are subject to the deductible, which means you will pay a negotiated, allowed amount for your prescription drugs until you've reached the deductible.

Other things to know about your plan

1 How does the money I pay toward my deductible add up (or aggregate)?

Individual Aggregation: Each covered family member only needs to satisfy their own individual deductible, not the entire family deductible, before plan benefits kick in. This option is often more attractive to families because claims for individuals will be covered when that individual meets their single deductible, regardless of whether or not other family members have met theirs.

Family Aggregation: While this option typically helps keep monthly premiums lower, family aggregation means the entire family's annual deductible must be met by one or any combination of covered members before a copay or coinsurance is applied for any family member.

2 How much will I pay out-of-pocket for this plan? And how does it add up (or aggregate)?

- To help limit your out-of-pocket costs, all of our plans have a maximum amount that any one person will pay. This is called an out-of-pocket maximum.
- This amount varies, depending on the plan you have. Log into ExcellusBCBS.com/Member to view your benefits and learn what your amount is.

- Individual Aggregation:

- With individual aggregation, each family member only needs to meet their own maximum before services are covered in full.

- Family Aggregation:

- With family aggregation, the entire family's combined out-of-pocket maximum must be met before any individual's services are covered in full.
- All Family Aggregation plans include an extra layer of protection preventing any individual from exceeding $7,500 in personal out-of-pocket medical expenses each year. This cap applies to family plans with family aggregation, acting as a safeguard and providing more value in the event of high medical expenses for one individual.

3 What kind of funding accounts work with this plan?

This plan qualifies for a Health Savings Account (HSA).

*Age and gender restrictions can apply. For the full list of preventive care services and qualifying requirements, visit www.healthcare.gov/coverage/preventive-care-benefits.

Important terms

Deductible

An amount of money you have to pay before the health insurance company will make any payment toward your health care services. For example: If you have a $3,000 deductible, you pay 100% of your first $3,000 in medical bills. After you reach your deductible amount, you may pay a portion of your health care costs, and your health insurance company will pay the rest.

Coinsurance

Coinsurance is similar to a copay, but instead of a fixed-dollar amount, you pay a percentage of the total bill. For example: You need crutches, and your bill is $100. If your coinsurance is 15%, that means you pay $15, and the insurance company pays the remaining $85.

Out-of-Pocket Maximum

An annual limit on the amount of money that you pay for health care services, not including your monthly premiums.
